Numb. 162.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Saturday, FEBRUARY 26, to Saturday, MARCH 5, 1737.

South-Carolina.

Council-Chamber, March 3, 1736-7.

WHEREAS ſeveral poor Proteſtants of divers Nations, have left their native Country and come into this Province, on the Encouragement given by the Publick for ſuch of them as ſhould be willing to ſettle in the ſeveral Townſhips in this Province, which Encouragement is payable out of the ſinking Fund: AND whereas the ſaid Fund falls ſhort of providing for the Settlers already arrived in this Province, and alſo that the ſaid Fund will expire in Auguſt 1738, after which there is no Proviſion for their Support, and this Government having received advice that a great Number of Swiſs and other poor Proteſtants have a Deſign to come over on that Encouragement; his Honour the Lieutenant Governor of this Province has thought proper with the Advice of his Majeſty's Honourable Council to order this Advertiſement to be publiſhed in the Weekly Gazette of this Province, that all Perſons who intend to tranſport themſelves to this Province in expectation of a Support from that Fund, may be apprized thereof, and ſuffer no Diſappointment or Inconvenience on their Arrival here: Yet ſuch Perſons as tranſport themſelves will be intituled to Lands in the ſeveral Townſhips free of Quit-Rent for Ten Years, and receive ſuch further Encouragement as is in the Power of this Government to afford them.

By order of his Honour the Lieutenant Governor, and his Majeſty's Honourable Council.

J. BADENHOP, C. C.

GENOA, Dec. 18.

THE laſt Letters from Baſtia ſay, that the Hopes of bringing the Rebels to a Submiſſion were intirely vaniſhed. Before the Retreat of the Lord Theodore, the Government made them advantageous Propoſals, but they were not hearkened to. The Rebels have ſince deputed a Perſon to Baſtia with full Powers to enter into Negociation. Rivarola, Commiſſary of the Republick queſtioning the Sincerity of this Deputation, ſent the Plenipotentiary to the Convent of the Servites, where he had him ſtrictly guarded for three Days: He afterwards ſent for him, and gave him to underſtand, that before he would enter upon Buſineſs, the Rebels muſt drop their Demand of the Emperor's Guaranty; and, beſides, deliver up their Arms, diſcover the Names of the Revolters, and give Hoſtages for their Loyalty. The Propoſitions which this Deputy had to make not agreeing with thoſe Conditions, he was ſafely ſent back. Theſe Letters add, that the Chiefs of the Malecontents having been informed of the Pretentions of the Commiſſary of the Republick, called a General Aſſembly, wherein it was unanimouſly reſolved to die, rather than to accept ſuch Conditions: Which confirms us in our Opinion, that the Rebels wanted only to gain Time, in order to have Liberty to feed the Cattle along the Sea-Coaſts; becauſe it is impoſſible for them to ſubſiſt during the Winter in the Mountains, on Account of the Snow.

LONDON. Jan. 6.

From Vienna, That the Court has received an Expreſs from Raab in Hungary, which which has brought the melancholy News of the Death of the Baron de Wuttgenau, who lately died there of a violent Fever.

An Extract of a private Letter from the Hague.

It is apprehended here, that the Deaths of Meſſ. Slingelandt and Boetelaer, and the Reſignation of M. Fagel, preſages a Change in the Syſtem of Affairs, not only in thoſe of the Province of Holland, but likewiſe in that of the whole Republick. The Reaſon that the laſt of theſe Gentlemen quits Buſineſs is, as well from his advanced Age, as from the Underſtanding which always ſubſiſted between him and the late Penſionary, who never fail'd conſulting each other on the moſt important Affairs, and very rarely in a Concurrence of Sentiments; in ſhort, the Opinion of theſe great Men entirely influenc'd all Affairs; and the Alteration which may happen from the Death of the one and the Reſignation of the other, is likely to produce others in the College of Nobles.

Mr. Trevor, the Britiſh Miniſter, has ſeveral Days been firſt in Conference with Count Kegteren, then Preſident of the Week, and afterwards with the other Deputies of the States General, to whom he repreſented, on the Part of his Court, That the Peace being as good as concluded between the Powers concern'd in the laſt War, and no Signs of holding a Congreſs, be thought it the Intereſt of the States General, as well as of the Court of Great-Britain, to joint y demand of the King of Spain a Redreſs of their Grievances, and particularly thoſe which relate to Commerce: That their High Mightineſſes have had a recent Proof of the unwarrantable Liberty which the Spaniſh Guarda Coſtas take; and that if his Britannick Majeſty and their High Mightineſſes ſhould not act vigorouſly in demanding Satisfaction for the Injuries that the Subjects of each Nation had receiv'd, it was greatly to be apprehended, that both the Trade of Great-Britain and Holland, would be more and more ſubject to Inconveniencies in divers Parts of America, which would be the more difficultly remedied, the longer the Spaniards were ſuffered to moleſt all Ships that traded to that Continent.

We hear that a Fleet of 25 Ships of War will be ſpreedily ſent to Lizbon, in the room of his Majeſty's Ships who are to return home to be refitted.

A Fire happened on Tueſday Night laſt at the Temple, which was diſcovered about half an Hour after ſix that Evening, and laſted till yeſterday Morning about ſeven, when its Fury was quite quenched by the Engines and Firemen. Upwards of twenty Chambers were conſumed, including the three Houſes in Crown-Office Row and thoſe in Fig-Tree Court, and as many more were damaged: Among the burnt Chambers are thoſe of Counſellor York, Mr. Weſt, Mr. Peters, Mr. Floyer, Mr. Blew the Librarian, Counſellor Collins, &c. And tho' the Wind happily was not high, the Water was ſo ſcarce till about one o'Clock yeſterday Morning, that there was no poſſibility of ſtopping the Flames, notwithſtanding there was near twenty Engines, and Hands more than ſufficient

His Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales went about twelve o'Clock, attended by the Earl of Albemarle and ſeveral other Perſons of Diſtinction, and encouraged the Workmen with his Preſence and Bounty (ordering Money to be diſtributed amongſt them) and tarried ſeveral Hours, ſtanding ſome Times at the Chambers (No. 10) in Crown-Office Row, and ſometimes walking from one Side of the Fire to the other.

His Royal Highneſs returned to the Temple about one o'Clock, yeſterday, and ſtay'd about an Hour: He ſtood for ſome time in the Chambers at the uppermoſt Houſe of the Paper Buildings; and the Crowd was ſo great in the Garden to ſee him, that ſeveral Perſons were much hurt, among whom a Boy, belonging to ſome Pariſh School, was thrown down, and had his Thigh broke. The Confuſion was ſo great that the further Particulars could not be well known. The Damage is almoſt inexpreſſible to form a Judgment of the Conſequence of the numberleſs Papers that were deſtroyed.

Jan. 8. On Thurſday Evening arrived from Georgia, at his Houſe in Old Palace Yard, Weſtminſter, James Oglethorpe Eſq; Member of Parliament for Haſlemere in Surry.

Mr. Oglethorpe came over from the ſaid Colony in the Ship the Two Brothers, Capt. Thompſon Commander, and was drove by Streſs of Weather into the Briſtol Channel, and with great Difficulty was landed at Ilfordcombe in the County of Devon, from whence he took Poſt, and was handſomely entertained on the Road by ſeveral Perſons of Diſtinction who knew him, and careſs'd him on his ſafe Return to England. And,

Yeſterday he waited on her Majeſty, and met with a gracious Reception: he afterwards waited on the Right Honourable Sir Robert Walpole at his Houſe in Downing-ſtreet, and alſo on the ſeveral Truſtees of the ſaid Colony.

Jan. 12. We hear that by the laſt Expreſs that arrived here from the Court of Spain very important News were brought to this Court, tending to promote a good underſtanding between England and Spain And that his Majeſty's Ships the Eltham and Greenwich, which were to be ſent to the Weſt Indies, are to be Part of the Ships that are to go to Lisbon, to relieve ſome of the Squadron under Sir John Norris, there being at preſent no Occaſion for them in the Weſt Indies

CHARLESTOWN, March 5.

By a Letter of Febr 21. from Georgia we are inform'd, that Seven of the Upper Creek Indians met a Spaniard, one Indian, one Mulatto and one Negro, with ſeven Horſes, having been out for Cattle; they invited the Indians to their Camp, where being arrived the Indians found with them a Gun belonging to one of their People who had been killed with his Family ſome time ago, for which reaſon they killed them all that Night, and brought the ſeven Spaniſh Horſes into Savannah

His Majeſty's Snow the Shark is returned into this Port from a Cruize

By Capt Seaman who arrived here in 36 days from the Lands End, we learn that before he came out, his Majeſty was ſafely landed in England.

We hear that the General Aſſemb'y of this Province will be prorogued this Day, after the Ratification of ſeveral Acts paſſed this Seſſions, the Titles whereof will be publiſhed in our next.
